Scullion Hurls ÉCONOMUSÉE
16 Lough Road, Loughguile, Ballymena, Co. Antrim, Ireland, BT44 9JN
Phone/Fax: 028 276 41308
Mobile: 077 366 48115
www.scullionhurls.com
Email: info@scullionhurls.com

Scullion Hurls ÉCONOMUSÉE is funded by the ÉCONOMUSÉE Northern Europe project under the Northern Periphery Programme 2007-2013 and Northern Ireland Tourist Board.

The project involves a number of organisations from across Northern Europe, working in partnership to promote craft tourism.

The network is designed for small industries specialising in arts, crafts and agri-food products. The industries are open to the public, offering an interactive, recreational and enriching experience.

Visit artisans of the ÉCONOMUSÉE network and learn about their history, traditional production techniques and contemporary products, stamped with identity and originality.

Discover Artisans at Work!

ÉCONOMUSÉE
Artisans at Work

A Quality Experience

ÉCONOMUSÉE - a concept developed in Quebec, Canada. The term ÉCONOMUSÉE translates to Economuseum or working museum. The mission of the ÉCONOMUSÉE network is to promote and keep alive traditional crafts and knowledge, whilst ensuring economic growth within rural communities.

Scullion Hurls ÉCONOMUSÉE is located in the village of Loughguile. It is situated at the edge of the Antrim Coast and Glens Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

The Scullion family invite you to visit the workshop and experience the craftsmanship involved in hurl making.

On arrival at the Scullion Hurls ÉCONOMUSÉE you will receive a warm welcome from the Scullion family.

Watch Micheal and Denis take the time to produce a Scullion hurl focusing on quality and finally hand finishing the hurl in the Loughguile workshop.

Learn what inspired the Scullion family to start up the family business producing hurls and more about the local teams that use a Scullion hurl.

Why not explore the gift shop and treat yourself or surprise someone with a Scullion hurl or one of the many craft products made from the surplus ash. These include cheeseboards, clocks, photo hurls, keyrings, pens and other personalised gift items.

A 6 STEP TOUR

1 Reception area
On arrival at the Scullion Hurls ÉCONOMUSÉE you will receive a warm welcome from the Scullion family.

2 Workshop
Watch Micheal and Denis take the time to produce a Scullion hurl focusing on quality and finally hand finishing the hurl in the Loughguile workshop.

3 Historical facts & traditional techniques
Explore the exhibition area to learn about the history of hurling, the process involved in making a Scullion hurl and the family connection behind the business.

4 Present-day knowledge & techniques
Experience the Scullion Hurls production process.

5 Documentation centre
Learn what inspired the Scullion family to start up the family business producing hurls and more about the local teams that use a Scullion hurl.

6 Craft shop
Why not explore the gift shop and treat yourself or surprise someone with a Scullion hurl or one of the many craft products made from the surplus ash. These include cheeseboards, clocks, photo hurls, keyrings, pens and other personalised gift items.

See the Traditional Craft of Hurley Making & Learn all about the great sport of Hurling